Eventing Brochure 2024

From private tasting events to companywide team-building, we've got you covered.

Here at Cult & Boutique, we have a vast portfolio of wines, spanning all budgets and preferences. We also have access to a wealth of fine wine industry experts, allowing us to craft events to suit all needs.

We offer a range of events, all of which can be personalised to make yours truly bespoke. Here are just a few of the types of events we host:

Private fine wine tastings

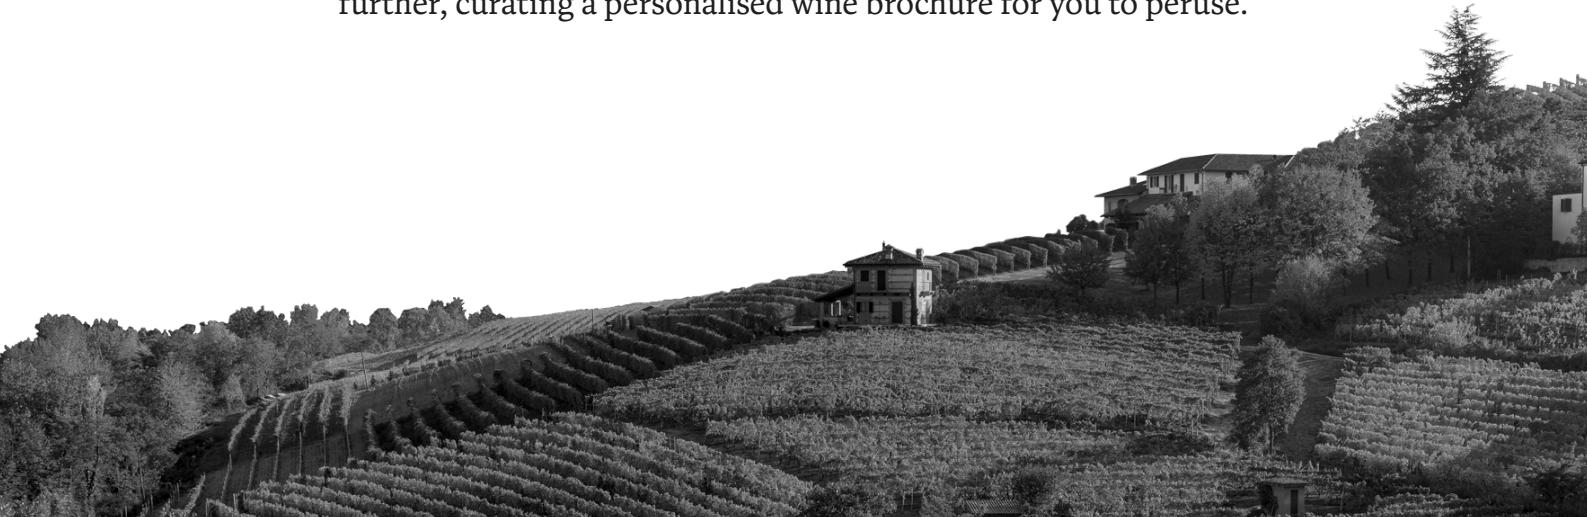

Team-building corporate wine tastings

Educational introductions to wine

Wine brand specific tastings and talks

Celebratory wine and music evenings

Should any of the following information spark your interest, please contact via the email corporate@cultandboutique.com so we can discuss your needs further, curating a personalised wine brochure for you to peruse.

Who are we?

Cult & Boutique is a wine management company first, with over a decade of industry experience. We source a wide range of fine wines for clients looking to invest, as well as those looking to purchase for immediate drinking. As a result, we have direct access to an impressive collection of wine, that we are able to immediately distribute to our customers.

As such, we are always looking for more ways to get the best wines out to those who want them. 'Wrapped' Eventing is one of these ways, allowing individuals and businesses to take full advantage of the range of wines we offer, curating an event to suit their specific needs, budget and their wine tastes. Wine is what we do, and through this unique service, hosting a tasting event has never been easier.

What we do?

We are passionate about not only providing great wines for your event, but making the hosting process as simple as possible. Whether hosts require a boutique range of top-quality fine wines to taste, or a selection of more accessible drinking wines, we are able to create a bespoke wine list for hosts to browse and select from to suit their specific wants.

We are able to offer a range of eventing types, inviting industry experts who are able to provide educational, entertaining insights into the wines being tasted, should this service be required. Whatever level of focus hosts wish to place onto the tasting itself, we are able to accommodate all tasting requirements.

Our Offer

We are able to host events throughout most London locations, transporting all wines to the event venue as well as organizing any glassware needed for the event. Our pricing is calculated through wine costs plus a hosting and transportation fee. Prices vary depending on wine selection, event location and industry expert requirements.

(Specific wine prices will be detailed in your personalised wine brochure once we have discussed your wants and needs.)
